Founding School Leader: Hampden Heights Campus

Job Description

Founding School Leader

Create something amazing! Rocky Mountain Prep is a nationally-recognized, high-performing charter management organization opening its second public charter elementary school in Denver. Our mission is to close the opportunity gap. As the founding school leader, you will collaborate with high-caliber teachers and leaders to build an amazing school.

What you'll love:

- A one year leadership residency to work as a key leader in RMP's first campus, learn from national leaders and have time for focused planning, coaching and support.
- Constant improvement through coaching, weekly professional development, analysis of achievement data and common planning time.
- A great team. We are many minds with one mission: to prepare our scholars for success in college and life. Every teacher has common planning time, collaborates with their grade-level and has a Teaching Fellow or Paraprofessional to help in their class.
- Focus on student achievement data to drive rigorous educational outcomes for students.

Job Responsibilities:

- Hiring, supervising and building an amazing team of educators
- Responsibility for driving transformational results for our scholars
- Ensuring instructional excellence, professional development, and fidelity to RMP core values and practices
- Driving innovation and continuous improvement
- Directly managing the school leadership team
- Developing and monitor the school budget in partnership with the Home Office
- Building and maintaining positive community and family connections
- Overseeing building level operations including facilities management, safety and security and food services

A candidate we'll love:

- You have a track-record of successful leadership and working with diverse communities.
- You're entrepreneurial and willing to do "whatever it takes."
- You have a deep dedication, belief and preferably experience in Rocky Mountain Prep's mission, educational model & values.
- You have demonstrated success raising student achievement
- You have a desire to be held accountable for every aspect of the school's success
- You are a team player who believes that working hard and having fun go hand-in-hand.
- Your unrelenting desire to learn and improve your practice is infectious.
- You're organized and can't help but creating a plan for everything. Your to-do lists are color-coded.

Compensation

Salaries are competitive and commensurate with experience and include a comprehensive benefits package.
